

Marshall In Blunt Speech Blasts USSR On Ultimatum

Moscow, March 31 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall, in his bluntest speech of the conference, denounced Soviet Russia today for delivering "an ultimatum" to the Foreign Ministers Council.

"Unless we can have a real meeting of minds and a real desire to carry out both the spirit and letter of our agreements it would be better if none were reached," the Secretary of State declared.

"We can never reach real agreement on the basis of ultimatum or immovable positions," Marshall declared in commenting on the Soviet position that unless Russia received reparations from current German production no settlements could be reached.

British Proposal

He spoke after the British had circulated a proposal by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin to the Council for the unification of Germany by July 1, this year, a unification which he said should be made effective by abolishing all restrictions on movement of goods between the zones.

This proposal, obviously unacceptable to the Russians, provided that before any reparations could be paid the Germans would have to pay back sums advanced for Germany's maintenance by the occupying powers and meet the cost of occupation.

Bevin's comprehensive 10-page proposal, in the form of an order of the Council, would supplement and where necessary revise the Potsdam agreement.

Still Have Hope

However, the proposal, which became available for publication while the Council still was in session, obviously will be unacceptable to the Russians in its main provisions, both economic and political. Among other things it would have the effect of prohibiting immediate reparations from German production, as the Russians demand, and it calls for a federalized form of government which the Russians oppose.

Highly placed informants predicted before the meeting that Secretary of State Marshall would reject Russian demands that the Soviet Union have absolute assurance of current reparations from Germany as a price for any agreement on German economic unity.

In addition to calling for Germany to be made self-sufficient, the Bevin plan provides for repayment of sums advanced to Germany by the controlling powers.

"The American delegation came here to negotiate and try to settle the gravest world problems," said one American informant, "but we cannot do that on a basis of anybody's ultimatum."

American authorities expressed hope they could keep the conference situation fluid, but added that the next two or three days should tell the tale in that respect.

SPECIAL RITES IN HOLY WEEK

The Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church, New Oxford, has announced a series of special services to mark Holy Week.

Confessions will be heard at the church on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock and Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Holy Thursday, April 3, will be devoted to the observance of the institution of the Holy Eucharist when Holy Communion will be distributed at 6 a. m. and 7 a. m., followed by mass at 8 a. m. when a procession of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be participated in by parochial school children. The Blessed Sacrament will be exposed throughout the day, and at 7:30 p. m. there will be a special service of adoration. Confessions on that day will be heard at 3 p. m. and again after the evening service.

The mass of the pre-sanctified will take place at 8 a. m. on Good Friday. In the evening the Stations of the Cross will take place after both morning and evening services. Confessions will again be heard on this day, at the same hours as on Holy Thursday.

The traditional services of Holy Saturday will begin at 6:30 a. m. with the blessing of the Paschal Candle, the Easter Fire and Easter Water. Mass, to immediately follow these observances, will begin at about 7:45. Confessions on this day will be on the usual Saturday schedule.

High mass will take place at 7:30 Easter Sunday morning, with a low mass at 10 a. m. Because of the large number expected to attend the early mass, the Blessed Virgin Sodality will not attend in a body as usual on the first Sunday of the month.

There will be no First Friday observance for April, because of Good Friday falling on that date. Good Friday is the only day of the year in the Catholic church when Holy Communion cannot be received.

Weather Forecast

Increasing cloudiness and not so cold tonight; Tuesday mostly cloudy and milder followed by occasional rain.

SIX SERVICES AT ST. JAMES

Holy Week services will be held at St. James Lutheran church every evening this week, Monday through Friday, at 7:30 o'clock.

This evening, Ross Forney, a student at the Lutheran Seminary and a member of St. James, will be the preacher, speaking on the theme, "Heart Trouble." During the balance of the week Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor, will occupy the pulpit. On Tuesday evening the sermon subject will be, "Jesus in Trouble"; Wednesday evening, "Jesus on Trial"; Thursday evening, "Jesus in the Hour of Extremity."

On Good Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock the Communion Good Friday service will be held, preceded by a half hour organ recital by Prof. Richard B. Shade. Good Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, the Holy Communion will be celebrated and new members received into the church.

At the service Sunday morning the church was presented with a credence table as a memorial to the Rev. Edward E. Hoshour by his wife, Mrs. Edward E. Hoshour. In behalf of the congregation Doctor Gresh accepted the gift and consecrated it "to its intended use and to the glory of God."

Littlestown SERVICES HELD ON PALM SUNDAY

Holy Communion was administered to a very large congregation at St. Luke's Reformed church Palm Sunday morning. Three new members were received by letter at this service. They were Mr. and Mrs. Guy McCabe and Mrs. Elizabeth Wintrotte Pittenturf.

Choir rehearsals will be held Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Preparatory service was held at Christ Reformed church, Palm Sunday morning. The pastor and choir made their first appearance in gowns at this service. These gowns were secured in preparation for the

Attends Convention Of Northeast Roofers

Richard "Bud" Codori, roofing representative of the Citizens Oil company, left today for New York to attend a four-day convention of the Northeast Roofing, Siding and Insulating Contractors association, in Grand Central Palace.

Mr. Codori is the membership representative of the Citizens Oil company in the association. Several thousand roofers and insulators are expected to attend the convention at which new developments in the trade and a new code of fair trades practices will be discussed.

'Aunt Katie' Barbehenn, 81, Dies Sunday After Stroke

Katie E. Barbehenn, who marked her eighty-first birthday anniversary on New Year's Day, died Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock in her home at 218 North Stratton street where she was born and lived all her life.

Death followed a stroke which she suffered two weeks ago. Her condition had been critical since that time.

Best known to more than three decades of Gettysburg youngsters as the cheerful supplier of hundreds of cut flowers to be strewn by school children on the graves of the soldier dead in the National Cemetery each Memorial Day for 33 years, "Aunt Katie" as she was known to a host of friends had expressed the hope she might live to see the flowers bloom in her garden this spring.

Her hope was not unfulfilled for on Sunday the first crocuses were opening along the pathways of the Barbehenn garden, known throughout the community for its galaxy of blooms from early spring to late fall.

"Aunt Katie" was a daughter of the late Henry P. Barbehenn, a native of Germany who came from that country to Gettysburg in 1858 and resided here until his death in June, 1915. He helped build the Gettysburg gas works and served as its superintendent for 47 years.

The deceased was a lifelong member of the St. James Lutheran church.

Surviving her are her brother, J. Edward Barbehenn, with whom she lived; another brother, Nathaniel C., North Stratton street; an adopted brother, Frank, of Rochester, N. Y.; and two sisters, Sister Mary Barbehenn of the Lankenau hospital in Philadelphia, and Mrs. Annie Musser, Carlisle street. There are a number of nieces and nephews.

Services Wednesday

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Bender funeral home with Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of Gettysburg college, and the Rev. Dr. Ralph R. Gresh, her pastor, officiating. Interment in the family plot in Evergreen cemetery.

Friends may call at the home Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Six members of the Gettysburg college faculty will be the pallbearers: Prof. Lester O. Johnson, Prof. George R. Larkin, Dr. Albert Bachman, Prof. Parker B. Wagnild, Dr. George R. Miller and Dr. Kenneth L. Smoke.

RECREATION BD. ISSUES ANNUAL CALL FOR FUNDS

The Gettysburg Recreation Board today sent out its annual appeal to about 35 local organizations for financial support for the coming year.

The board, which operates the community playground, derives its support in three ways. The school board provides the land, the town council provides funds for supervision and the money for purchase of equipment comes from donations by organizations and individuals, Elmer W. Warren, chairman of the board pointed out.

"We wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation for the splendid cooperation you have given the Gettysburg playground program during the last five years," the letter sent to the organizations pointed out. "This is a community activity in which it is necessary to have the interest and support of every organization."

Plan New Equipment

"The Gettysburg Recreation Board is coordinating the efforts of the borough council, school board, fraternal, civic and church organizations with the hope that we may have a playground for our children of which all of us will be proud."

"Our purpose this year is to provide additional equipment to be used by the young people of this community and for this reason we are writing you. We would appreciate your continued support in this endeavor by a contribution at this time."

Last year attendance at the playground approached an all-time high, President Warren said, and this year's activities at the playground are expected to be the largest in its history. Among the new equipment that will be installed for this year is a "combination" piece which includes flying rings, bars, ladders, poles and the like for active youngsters to climb, slide down, hang upon, chin themselves and generally act out the part of trapeze artists.

Blames Students For Damaging Signs

College students tore down two large signs in front of the store of Ray Culp, Carlisle street, Saturday night, according to a complaint made by Mr. Culp to borough police.

Mr. Culp reported that several students were "making a lot of noise" in front of his place Saturday night, and when he checked Sunday morning he found the signs torn down.

Mr. Culp said this was the second time recently that damage has been caused to his property. Two weeks ago he reported that a porch light had been taken and another damaged, and a box of garbage dumped on the pavement in front of his store.

Easter Program At Cashtown On Friday

An Easter program will be presented Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church, Cashtown.

A children's program will be followed by a pageant, "The Witnesses."

BANQUET TOASTMASTER

Cyrus C. Bucher presided as toastmaster at the banquet of the Future Farmers of America and Future Homemakers of America held Friday evening in the Biglerville high school auditorium.

Nine Received Into Church Membership

Nine young people were received by confirmation on Palm Sunday into membership of the First Lutheran church, New Oxford. These were: Doris Marian Auchey, Janet Elizabeth Auchey, John Edward Auchey, Burnell David Chronister, Larry Elwood Gable, Kenneth William Kohler, Treva Kathryn Myers, David Sebright, Jr., and Charles Stockham.

These expect to participate with the congregation in Easter Communion at 10:15 Easter Sunday morning. Preparatory service is scheduled for Thursday evening at 7:30. The last of a series of Wednesday evening Lenten services will take place April 2 at 7:30.

The Rev. George E. Sheffer is pastor.

RED CROSS IS $3,930 SHORT OF DRIVE GOAL

The Adams county Red Cross today was contemplating extending its drive for $12,440 into April, with $3,930.34 needed to complete the annual drive. The total is $8,510.

While solicitors were reported to be redoubling their efforts, there was doubt that the sum needed would be secured by midnight tonight, the original date for the end of the annual fund solicitation.

Approximately $1,100 was turned in over the week-end. Four districts gave most of that amount, with District 1, Fairfield, bringing in $514.85 additional; District 5, reporting $325.88 additional; District 6, New Oxford, brought its contributions so far to $647.32 by turning in $177.50 more over the week-end and District 2, Franklin township, added $76.50 to its amount bringing its total to $640.15.

A breakdown of donations so far by districts was announced today as follows: first ward, first precinct, Gettysburg, $366.25; first ward, second precinct, $355; second ward, $1,057.15; third ward, $239; business district, $633.15; clubs and organizations, $246; District 1, Fairfield area, $716.46; District 2, Franklin township, $640.15; District 3, Upper Adams county, $1,554.75; District 4, (Please Turn to Page 7)

Soft Coal Miners Start Six-Day Stoppage Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

Production in the nation's bituminous coal pits was virtually normal today—the last day before a six day work stoppage by 400,000 AFL-United Mine workers in mourning for the explosion in the Centralia, Ill., mine explosion.

Industry accepted the prospective curtailment of fuel supplies calmly. Normally, such a stoppage would cost 10 to 12 million tons in coal production but the mourning period ordered by Mine Union President John L. Lewis falls in a week in which much idleness would have occurred anyway.

The work stoppage comes in Easter week which this year includes the traditional miners' April 1 holiday. Few miners work on Holy Thursday or Good Friday. Saturday is an optional work day for which miners who work receive premium pay. Thus, Wednesday will be the only full production day lost.

The rich Pennsylvania bituminous fields reported normal production and the West Virginia fields, most

Couple Observes 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Guise, Carlisle street, celebrated their fortieth wedding anniversary Sunday at a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Guise, North Stratton street.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guise, York Springs; Mr. and Mrs. John Guise and family, Hagerstown, Md.; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Guise, Gettysburg R. 4; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Guise, Gettysburg R. 1; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cashman, New Oxford; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Howe, Waynesboro, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zinn, New Oxford.

HEAVY TRAFFIC; MANY ARRESTS; ONE IS JAILED

Automobile traffic on the main highways of Adams county and in the borough was heaviest in many weeks over the week-end, and there was a corresponding increase in the number of arrests for traffic violations.

Allen Ross Knipple, Gettysburg R. 3, was held for court today on a charge of drunken driving after pleading guilty to this charge, and was remanded to jail in default of $500 bail by Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore. The arrest was made by Officer Tawney at 12:30 a. m. today.

John H. Rudisill, Gettysburg R. 3, was arrested at 4 p. m. Saturday afternoon by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster on a charge of reckless driving on York, Liberty and Hanover streets.

Harpster's report showed that Rudisill's car struck the parked automobile of Eugene E. Shyers, Idaville, causing $75 damage to Shyers' car and $50 damage to the Rudisill car. A ten-day notice was sent by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

Mrs. June Myers, Arlington, Va., arrested by state police of the Gettysburg sub-station on Saturday on a charge of not having an operator's license, paid a fine of $10 and costs to Justice Baschore.

Several Are Fined

William Edward Thomas, Washington, D. C., arrested by state police here at 7:30 p. m. Saturday on a charge of passing another car on the crest of a hill, paid a fine of $10 and costs to Squire Snyder.

David Lee Neighbours, Emmitsburg R. 1, arrested at 12:45 a. m. Sunday by Borough Police Officer Kenneth Tawney on a reckless driving charge on York street, was released by Squire Baschore in bail of $28.50 for a hearing tonight.

State police here arrested Edward Calvert Nixon, Wittier, Cal., Sunday afternoon on a bad pass charge. Nixon paid a fine of $10 and costs to Squire Baschore.

Milton Taylor, Athens, has been charged with speeding before Justice W. D. Brown, Straban township, by state police.

Philip Boyer, Chambersburg, has been charged before a local justice by state police with making an improper pass.

Ralph Stoner, Mt. Holy Springs, has been charged before a Cumberland county justice by local state police, with reckless driving.

JAILED FOR 30 DAYS

John Hoffman, South Washington street, arrested shortly after midnight Sunday morning by Borough Police Officer Kenneth Tawney on a disorderly conduct charge, was committed to jail by Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore for 30 days in default of a fine of $10 and costs. Tawney reported that he took Hoffman out of the cellar of the Acme market.

Harry L. Haines, Former Congressman, Succumbs; Funeral Rites Wednesday

Former Congressman Harry L. Haines, of the Adams, York, Franklin district, died at 7 o'clock Saturday evening at his home, 220 North Main street, Red Lion. He was 67.

About three years ago, Mr. Haines suffered a stroke of apoplexy and he had been in ill health since that time.

A life-long Democrat, Mr. Haines served in Congress for five terms, first a period of eight consecutive years from 1931 to 1938, inclusive, and for two other years, 1941 and 1942. He was a member of the 72nd, 73rd, 74th, 75th and 77th Congresses.

Community Leader

A former chief Burgess of Red Lion, Mr. Haines was a recognized leader of that community for the past generation. He was also a prominent churchman and Sunday school leader, a former cigar manufacturer, active clubman and a well-known baseball player during his earlier life.

He was born in Red Lion, February 1, 1880, a few days within the date of the incorporation of the borough, in the former Wallick house, now the Lion hotel, a son of the late Benjamin Ambrose and Rebecca Wallick Haines. He attended Red Lion public schools.

After being employed as a cigar salesman for several years, he en-

Record Attendance At Trinity School

Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church school had a record attendance at their Palm Sunday session, with only 13 absentees being reported in the entire school. Perfect attendance was attained by the Beginners department and classes taught by Miss Frances Gilbert, Mrs. Clarence McClell, Miss Myrtle Sheely, Maureen Davis, Mrs. E. J. Yoder, E. J. Yoder, Charles Kuhns and George T. Raffensperger. Members of the Catechetical class conducted the worship service.

The Easter program of the school will be held on next Sunday morning with a charge in time from 9:30 to 9:15. The Board of the school will meet Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the parsonage.

Here And There News Collected At Random

Gettysburg churches of all denominations were well filled at Sunday morning services in observance of Palm Sunday. Special musical programs were presented and sermons delivered. Many of the churches received new members.

Well filled churches are not unusual or exceptional in Gettysburg. As a whole Gettysburg is a Christian community and responds generously to all church appeals, including financial. This is a wholesome spirit for any community.

A famous man once said: "I always measure a community's worth and significance by the number of church spires and the condition of its schools." Certainly he would not find Gettysburg wanting in those respects.

Gene Sickles, veteran sign painter, still chuckles over a while incident he experienced in service.

JUDGE ASSERTS CONVICTION OF JESUS UNLAWFUL

"Practically every step in the trial of Jesus before the Jewish Sanhedrin was illegal and, although a conscientious effort seems to have been made by Pilate up to a certain point, even Roman justice went to pieces before the demands of the multitude who clamored for Christ's death."

That conclusion was reached by Judge W. C. Sheely in an address Sunday evening on the legal aspects of the trial of Jesus. Judge Sheely spoke before a large congregation at a joint Lenten vesper service conducted by the Methodists and Presbyterians in the Methodist church.

Judge Sheely first reviewed principles of Jewish law in force in New Testament days and then applied them to the various stages of the trial of Jesus as given in an account combining the phases of the arrest, hearing and trials in the four Gospels.

Arrest Was Illegal

Under Jewish law, he said, Christ's arrest was illegal because it took place at night and because no warrant had been issued by a court that intended a fair trial. The court itself, he added, was a party to the conspiracy that sought Jesus' death. The testimony of Judas, who in the eyes of the law would have been an accomplice, was insufficient, he stated.

The preliminary hearing was illegal because it was held at night, secretly, and before a single judge while the law required a court of at least three judges. The first trial before the Sanhedrin also was at

SLIGHT FIRE DAMAGE

The Gettysburg Fire company was called Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock to extinguish a fire in a car along the Chambersburg pike. Damage was slight with only the insulation of the wiring system burning.

FALL IS FATAL TO MRS. SHOVER

Mrs. Myrtle Kepner Shover, 68, widow of George W. Shover, died Saturday evening at 10 o'clock at the Polyclinic hospital, Harrisburg, from a complication of diseases following a fall in which she suffered a fractured hip on March 23 while visiting at the home of her son, Lawrence Shover, Harrisburg.

Mrs. Shover had been in failing health for a number of years and her death followed that of her husband by five and one-half months. The deceased was born in Cumberland county, a daughter of the late William and Sarah Ann (Baldwin) Kepner. She was a member of the Marsh Creek Church of the Brethren.

Surviving are three sons, William W., West Middle street, with whom she had been residing; James L., and E. Lawrence, Harrisburg; two grandchildren; three brothers, John Kepner, Carlisle, and William and Roy Kepner, both of Fairfield R. D., and one sister, Mrs. John Kim, Fairfield R. D.

Funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Allison funeral home, Fairfield, conducted by the Rev. Walter A. Keeney and the Rev. John Myers. Interment in St. Jacobs cemetery, Fountaindale. Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock.

CORONER SETS INQUEST FOR WEDNESDAY AT 4

Adams County Coroner Dr. C. G. Crist today set Wednesday at 4 p. m. as the time for the inquest into the death of Herbert L. Humpert, 70-year-old Gardners R. D., farmer who was found dead, apparently murdered, last Wednesday night in the barn on his farm.

Meantime police continued their search for the clues that will lead them to the person or persons who committed the crime.

Humpert was found in the entry of his barn with his face badly beaten, as if with a fist, and his head cut and battered as if by some blunt instrument. There were 17 cuts in his head and face.

Coroner's Jury Chosen

The man, Coroner Crist estimated following a post mortem, had been dead since last Monday.

On the coroner's jury will be David Weller, Charles B. Dougherty, James A. Aumen, Frank Mumper, Harry Oyler, Sr., and Hugh C. McElhenny.

The "mysterious" car which brought Humpert to his home Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock was discovered to be owned by neighbors who were asked to drive Humpert into Gettysburg. It was understood today. The man was returning from Gettysburg when the car was seen.

Whether there were any late developments that might bring the search for the criminal to a quick end was not revealed today. But police were intensifying their search and widening the field of their coverage in seeking information concerning the deceased.

About 40 friends and relatives of the well-to-do recluse turned out Saturday afternoon for the funeral services held in the Routsong-Dugan funeral home at Bendersville and the interment at Goodyear cemetery.

'FIELD TRAFFIC' HEAVY SUNDAY

Palm Sunday in Gettysburg was marked by cool weather, but a bright sun mitigated the chilly atmosphere, and the day provided a preview of the Easter parade and Easter finery. New and sometimes startling creations in women's headgear were seen on the streets at the close of church services.

The day brought several of the battlefield guides out of a winter's retirement and tourist travel was the best thus far this year. Hotels and tourist homes, which usually close the opening of the season here from Easter Sunday, saw in the increased business Sunday a harbinger of a good spring and a better than usual tourist season.

Automobile traffic on the Lincoln highway through Gettysburg was heavier than for any Sunday in some time, and traffic was also heavy on Route 15, both north to Harrisburg and south to Emmitsburg and Washington. Garages and service stations reported business was good. Restaurants here also noticed the increase.

Travel over the battlefield showed an increase Sunday in spite of the still-cool breezes. Guides and others expect this coming season to be one of the best in the history of the national park here.

An estimated 2,156 persons visited the battlefield over the week-end. There were 77 guided tours of the

TRUMAN NAMES 7 AMBASSADORS

Washington, March 31 (AP)—President Truman today named Cavenish W. Cannon of Utah to be ambassador to Yugoslavia.

Cannon's name was sent to the Senate along with the nominations of six other ambassadors, including Stanton Griffiths of Connecticut to succeed Arthur Bliss Lane, as ambassador to Poland. Selection of Griffiths previously had been announced.

Gettysburg Driver In Three-Car Crash

Damage estimated at more than $500 was done in an accident involving three automobiles at Carlisle street and Maple avenue, Hanover, Friday evening at 5 o'clock. No one was injured. Hanover police investigated.

Police reported that Carl Elicker was driving north on Carlisle street and stopped near the center of the street preparatory to making a left turn into Maple avenue. Marvin Charles Lowe, Gettysburg R. D. 5, driving north on Carlisle street, attempted to pass the Elicker car on the left, the police report said, and in so doing struck the left front fender of the other machine.

The Lowe car ran over the curb on the left side of the street and struck an automobile parked in the used car lot of Bream's and Emmer's Auto Sales, 600 Carlisle street. Damage to the Elicker car was estimated by police at $10; to the Lowe car at $150 and to the machine in the used car lot at $350.

Delay Confirmation Of East Berlin Class

Although several young people were scheduled to join Trinity Lutheran church, East Berlin, by confirmation at the preparatory service on Friday evening, the Rev. Snyder Allemen, pastor, has announced that the reception will not take place until Whitsunday, late in May.

The postponement was necessary because a group of candidates for reception reside in rural areas and were unable to attend the catechetical class regularly during the storm period of a few weeks ago and consequently have not received sufficient instruction to meet standards for confirmation.

The preparatory service took place Friday, with Eastertide Communion on Palm Sunday morning.

The catechetical class meets each Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

'BLACK MONDAY' FOR CENTRALIA

Centralia, Ill., March 31 (AP)—A black Monday of mourning was proclaimed today as Centralia and four nearby communities resumed burial services for their 111 victims of the worst mine disaster since 1928.

Stores, offices and schools were closed in compliance with a joint proclamation by the mayors of Centralia, Wamac, Central City, Sandoval and Glen Ridge where most of the victims of last Tuesday's explosion in the Centralia Coal company's No. 5 mine lived.

Townpeople who share the grief of the miners' families were asked to attend a solemn requiem high mass in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church and a memorial service in the high school gymnasium conducted by the county ministerial association.

The last of the bodies was located Saturday and preparations were being made to start state and federal investigations of the disaster this week.

CANARIES WIN, SET THREE NEW STATE RECORDS

By TOM SHRIVER

Gettysburg, March 31 (P)—Three records were inscribed in the high school basketball arch- and two more were equalled in Allentown high turned back 46-42 to retain the state championship.

The Canaries thrilled a capacity crowd at the University of Pennsylvania's Palestra on Saturday night, setting the highest score ever in a state final, the previous record of 45 having been set by the team last year.

Quisque, in going down to defeat, set a record for the highest score ever made by a beaten team, best previous mark being 37 by Allentown in 1944, while the two teams rolled up a new mark of 88 in the top last year's record of 77 by Allentown and Homestead.

Fourth State Title

The Allentown victory enabled the Canaries to equal two marks formerly held by Lower Merion. The team gave the proteges of Coach Arthur Crum their fourth state title, and the latest win was the third consecutive state championship for the Blue and White.

Lower Merion won state championships in 1933, 1941, 1942 and 1943. The Allentown titles were won in 1935, 1945, 1946 and 1947. The Canaries' triumph was the first in 1944, midway between the streaks, was Duquesne, the vanquished five in this year's state title.

Dukes Worn Out

The Duquesne coach, Bill Lemmer, tied out his plan of keeping his players in the ball game as long as possible and the fast pace set by the Canaries left them worn and dry at the finish. Added to the handicap of trying to overcome a large floor, the "Little Dukes" were further hampered when two of their regulars, Andy Budinak, and Earl Goitz were banished for personal fouls.

Budinak, who is a strong candidate for all-state honors, was the star for Duquesne, keeping his team steadily in the fight and setting most of the scoring plays. He had his own with Wanish at the half, then dropped back to a hard spot and broke up the Allentown attack repeatedly.

The Duquesne five played alert, and up-and-down basketball to hold Allentown at half-time, 23-23, and the game was still knotted when the Allentown team reached the 30 mark. But Allentown put on a rush at that point and scored 39-31 at the end of the third quarter, and after that were never led.

ockey Playoffs Battle Of Goalees

The Pittsburgh Hornets and the Hershey Bears begin their best-of-seven series for the American Hockey League's playoff championship in Hershey tomorrow night in what probably will be a battle of titans.

Young Gordon (Red) Henry of the Bears and Baz Bastien of the Hornets will be in the opposing nets. Both goal-tenders have turned some sparkling performances in previous playoff rounds.

Henry, considerably aided by the play of defenseman Babe Pratt, scored only three goals and turned two shutouts as the pennant-winning eastern division Hershey team bowled over the Western Division flag winning Cleveland Barons in four straight games to gain final round berth.

Bastien, who turned in seven shutouts and wound up with the goals-against record during the regular season play, scored one shutout while giving up nine goals to the Hornets won four out of five games from New Haven and Buffalo entering the final round.

The second game of the series is scheduled for Hershey on April 3 with a third and fourth scheduled for Gettysburg, April 5 and 8. If additional games are needed, they will be played at Hershey April 10, Gettysburg April 12 and Hershey April 15.

Two Golfers Beat Par By 11 Strokes

Charlotte, N. C., March 31 (P)—Two young men whose golfing careers have run remarkably similar courses, Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, Tenn., and George Schoups of San Francisco, playing out of the Mamaronock, N. Y., Winged Foot club, tied it out here today in an 18-hole playoff for the Charlotte open tournament title.

Each gave the par an 11-stroke cushion to tie for the $2,000 top prize with 277s in the $10,000 72-hole event over the 6,400-yard Myers Park course.

If they are deadlocked at the end of 18 holes, they will play extra holes to a decision.

Merchants Drop Tilt To Chambersburg 5

The Gettysburg Merchants' cage five, bolstered by the presence of several former Gettysburg college players, lost a hard fought 42-32 decision to the Chambersburg Legion Saturday night at Chambersburg.

The score was tied seven times and the lead changed hands 11 times. Chambersburg spurred in the final five minutes to clinch the decision.

Bobby March topped the locals with 14 points.

Training Camp Briefs

(By The Associated Press)

Lakeland, Fla., March 31 (P)—The Detroit Tigers, rated in some circles as possessing the best pitching staff in the American league, are giving their hurlers plenty of opportunity to prove the high estimation in which the Bengals' mound crew is held.

Already, four of Manager Steve O'Neill's twirlers have hurled five complete games, a feat no other club can boast at this stage of spring training.

Colorful Dizzy Trout was the first to go the distance, dropping a 4-2 decision to the Boston Red Sox, but the big righthander came back four days later and went the route against the New York Yankees, chalking up a 3-2 victory.

In between Trout's nine-inning chores, Fireball Virgil Trucks blanked the International league Buffalo Bisons, 6-0 in nine frames and the other day, Freddie Hutchinson and Rookie Lou Kretlow hurled two Tiger squads to complete game wins over Kansas City and Newark respectively.

Houston, Tex., March 31 (P)—The Boston Red Sox open a long string of one-day stands here today by playing the local Buffs of the Texas league and Manager Joe Cronin has bowed to popular demand and will start Tex Hughes.

Among the 9,102 spectators who saw the Soxers beat the New Orleans Pelicans in New Orleans yesterday were 15 relatives of Pitcher Mel Parnell, the hometown boy who drew credit for the Boston's 5-1 victory.

Tampa, Fla., March 31 (P)—Elmer Riddle, Cincinnati Reds' pitcher forced into retirement in 1945 by a sore arm, makes the second mound appearance in his comeback attempt today when the Reds play the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg. Riddle, who pitched three scoreless innings against the Philadelphia Phillies last week, will share the pitching assignment with southpaw Johnny Vander Meer.

Tucson, Ariz., March 31 (P)—Doyle Lade is being praised by Skipper Charlie Grimm of the Chicago Cubs. The pudgy righthander from Shreveport allowed only two hits in five innings and fanned four in the Cubs' game with Los Angeles yesterday. He now has allowed only one run in 19 innings during the exhibition schedule, equalling Hank Borowy's record to date. Lade, however, has been used solely against minor league clubs, while all of Borowy's hurling has been against big leaguers.

Dodd Comes Close To Beating Record

Chicago, March 31 (P)—About the time it takes you to wink—that's how close Gil Dodd came to bettering his American indoor mile record in the Chicago relays Saturday night.

He tore by the quarter-mile mark in 59 seconds, covered the half in 2:02 reached three-quarters in 3:05 then lagged to a 1:01.8 for the final 440 yards to be clocked at 4:06.8.

Although this was the fastest time of the season, it was 2/5 second shy of matching the accepted American record he set in the 1944 Chicago relays when Billy Hulse of the New York A.A. breathed on the divinity student through 10 laps, pressing him to his best effort.

Dodd's said today he possibly would have beaten his record Saturday had the competition been a bit keener. He held a half lap margin most of the way over Gerald Karver of Penn State, who finished that distance behind him in second place.

Pittsburgh, March 31 (P)—Juste Fontaine, Milwaukee lightweight, hopes to get back in the win column when he collides with Bobby Ruffin of New York in a 10-round bout here tonight.

Fontaine, who recently lost a split decision to George Larover in a bout at Philadelphia, however, is on the short end of the odds.

COLLEGES HAVE 5 NEW CHAMPS

Madison, Wis., March 31 (P)—Intercollegiate boxing today had five new champions and three repeaters. They won the NCAA championships before 15,000 fans in the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse Saturday night as the climax of a three-day elimination series which started with 57 boxers from 17 colleges.

Wisconsin and Idaho, with two champions apiece, dominated the bouts. Other crowns were won by fighters from Syracuse, Penn State, Michigan state and Miami.

Charles Davey, 135 pounder from Michigan State Cliff Lutz, 145 pounds, Wisconsin, and Laune Erickson, 175, from Idaho, again took titles.

New winners were Gerald Auclair, 125 pounds, Syracuse, Glen Hawthorne, 130, Penn State; Herb Carlson, 155, Idaho, John Landenski 165, Wisconsin and Art Saey, heavyweight, Miami.

OHIO SWIMMERS WIN TEAM TITLE

Seattle, March 31 (P)—Joe Verdeur, Ohio State and Hoogerhyde were here.

There wasn't a ripple left in the University of Washington pool today to prove it, but the two full-chested athletes and the big team from the Big Nine had left their marks indelibly in the National Collegiate Athletic Association swimming books by cornering most of the glory in the annual N.C.A.A. championships which wound up Saturday night.

Verdeur, LaSalle university's great breaststroke stylist, twice cracked the N.C.A.A. mark in his 200-yard specialty and his feat of winning the finals in two minutes 16.8 seconds beat his own recognized world record of 2:19.5.

Ohio State, led by its quartet of stellar divers and freestylers Bill Smith, buttoned up the team championship for the second successive year with a point total of 66—comfortably above the 39 gathered by second place Michigan.

George A. Hoogerhyde of Michigan State was one of the busiest swimmers in the meet and "Hoogerhyde" was here "became the by-word of the 1947 event. The happy lad from East Lansing plowed the 1,500 meters in 19:44.2 to crack the N.C.A.A. record of 20:02.2 set in 1944 by K. Nakama. He finished at Bill Smith's heels in the 220-yard freestyle. And was fourth in the 440 freestyle.

County School Loop Meeting Wednesday

A meeting of the Adams County Interscholastic league will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the court house.

An election of officers will be held and a schedule for girls will be arranged. A discussion of basketball for next season will also be included in the business to be transacted.

Westerners Win East Vs West Game

New York, March 31 (P)—The New York Herald Tribune's fresh air fund was richer by some $12,000 today as the result of the second annual east-west all-star basketball game here Saturday night in which a couple of big nine players led the westerners to a 66-58 triumph.

Ralph Hoffman of Purdue, whose timely shooting staved off the east's second-half rally, was named the outstanding player of the game. Hoffman tallied 14 points for the west but was nosed out of high-scoring honors by Ralph Hamilton of Indiana, who accounted for 16 points although he played only ten minutes.

Babe Zaharias Wins From Dorothy Kirby

Augusta, Ga., March 31 (P)—Babe Didrickson Zaharias of Denver, who has put on virtually a non-stop winning tour of women's golf events in the southeast this winter, added the annual titleholders' event to her list today.

Finishing in a rainstorm yesterday, Mrs. Zaharias shot a final round 74 one under par for the 6,627-yard Augusta country club course to post a 304 total for the 72 holes, five strokes ahead of Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta who came in with an 81 and a total of 309.

WHO'S WHO IN ZOO

Chicago, (P)—Because nearly every visitor to the Lincoln Park zoo asks questions of busy animal keepers, Director R. Marlin Perkins has established a zoo answer shop.

Perkins said Fred Meyer, junior zoologist, the zoo's official answer man, is armed with a head full of facts, a card case full of answers for anticipated questions, and a zoological library for a quick check in case he gets stumped.

Perkins said the animal keepers were unable to contend with the questioning crowds.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, March 31 (P)—Broadcaster Frank Frisch, who used to manage the Cardinals and Pirates, strings along with the old theory that the way to develop a ball player is for him to play ball. . . . Frank cited Marty Marion as a prize example: "When I first saw Marion I never thought he'd become a good hitter; he always was a fine fielder. . . . He looked like the kind of player you'd send to Rochester and that's what we did. . . . Those three years there did wonders for him; he broadened out in the shoulders and developed power. Now it isn't safe to pitch high to him; he's liable to slap it over the right field fence. . . . It was just the result of playing ball every day. . . . Still thinking of Marion, Frank sighed: "Well, anybody can make mistakes." That's what he used to tell the umpires—and that generally was a mistake, too.

"SHARP PRACTICE"

Gus Falzer of the Newark News tells this one about the golfing feud between George Selkirk, the Bears' pilot, and Parke Carroll, business manager of the ball club. . . . Carroll persuaded Selkirk, a much longer driver, to play a match in which Parke would have his choice between his own tee shot and George's. . . . Coming up to the 18th all square, Selkirk sliced a long one behind a tree in the rough while Carroll was short but straight. . . . Carroll watched the manager as he waded into a weed patch and stopped, apparently to study a bad lie, then played his own ball. . . . Joining Selkirk in the weeds, Parke asked: "Where's your ball?" . . . "It's down the fairway near the green," George replied. "I just stopped to look at a butterfly and I thought I'd wait until you played your second shot." . . . Maybe the Greeks have a word for it, but Carroll hasn't found one yet.

"MONDAY MATINEE"

Johnny Fulton, former Stanford half-miler who spent the winter running in Australia, will be working in New York this summer but he plans to take time off from running in hope of reaching top shape for the 1948 olympics. . . . Sam (Sugar Bowl) Corenswet, says he hopes to get one or both of the big basketball tournament winners for his December game in New Orleans—and don't bet he hasn't got them signed up now. . . . Ed Koffenberg, Duke's big cage star, also is a standout mid-fielder in LaCrosse. . . . Fred Eagan who developed the colt, came out with a flat prediction that Hoot Mon will win the Hambletonian. At this stage, who gives a Hoot, Mon?

SAVED BY BELLS

Chicago, (P)—A tall youth, dressed like a cowboy and carrying a big pistol, last night stopped Miss Mary Bernard, 35, and tiny, and said, "this is a stickup." "Go away, little man, play cops and robbers somewhere else," Miss Bernard told Damen avenue police she replied to the gunman.

Miss Bernard then sought refuge in an apartment building hallway and leaned against a battery of apartment doorbells. Several of the tenants shouted down and one or two started walking down.

The gunman let out a whoop and fled.

LAW FIRMS ASKING Huge Settlement

Philadelphia, March 31 (P)—Court-appointed attorneys asked U. S. District Judge George A. Welsh today to award $1,950,000 to four law firms involved in the settlement of claims on behalf of Pennroad corporation stockholders.

The suit grew out of charge by Pennroad stockholders that the Pennsylvania railroad made "improper expenditures of nearly $95,000,000 of corporation funds."

Last August the railroad agreed to settle for $15,000,000 the Pennroad stockholders' suits. Pennroad was formed in 1929 as an investment corporation by PRR officers and directors.

Thomas C. Egan, former Pennsylvania Public Utility commissioner, and James L. Baxter, engaged by Judge Welsh to assist in arbitrating claims filed by the 19 lawyers and stockholder representatives for $4,000,000, recommended payment of the seven-figure sum.

EIGHT PERSONS DIE AS CAMDEN HOME IS BURNED

Camden, N. J., March 31 (P)—Eight persons died in the flaming wreckage of a Camden house yesterday.

A 40-year-old woman, six of her 14 children, and a grandson perished as rescuers vainly attempted to gain entrance to the small two-story dwelling.

Fire Marshal Bernard Gallagher said the death toll was the third highest from fire in the city's history.

He listed the dead as: Mrs. Gladys Johnson; her children Lawrence, 8; Howard, 9; Mary, three months; Pauline, 5; Catherine, 7; Susanna, 18; and Susanna's son Frederick, two months.

Gallagher said the bodies of the victims, all negroes, were huddled in front of two windows of the two bedrooms in which they met death. Six other members of the family escaped.

Oil Stove Blamed

The flames wiped out a grocery store and general contracting offices of the father of the family, Andrew Johnson, 45; who was rebuffed by flames as he tried to raise a ladder to an upstairs window.

Gallagher said the fire apparently was caused by a defective connection of an oil stove in the first floor kitchen. He said one of the survivors, 13-year-old James Johnson, gave this account of the start of the fire: "The family was sleeping when he awoke and started to light an oven to bake bread. Flames started to drip from a feed line into the tank. "Then the whole kitchen was on fire."

The blaze then cut off the doorway to the living room preventing him from running to arouse the family. His screams awakened the others.

Moose Bowlers In Win Over Hanover

The Gettysburg Moose won another bowling match Sunday by defeating the Hanover Moose on the local alleys. The locals won the match 2483-2465 and took two of the three games. Rickrode, of Hanover, was high man for the visitors with 551 and rolled 209 for a single game. Mike Tate topped the Gettysburg outfit with a total of 528 and a single game high of 192.

Stevens Expects His Best Season

Miami, Fla., March 31 (P)—His Mexican escapade a thing of the past now, Stocky Vern Stephens is looking forward to his best season as a member of the St. Louis Browns since he hit the big time in the fall of 1941.

The chunky shortstop with the Mickey Rooney nose and green eyes says he is happy and contented for the first time. It seems he never could get along with Luke Sewell, who resigned as manager of the Browns last year, making way for Herold (Muddy) Ruel, the present pilot.

"Luke and I never seemed to hit it off together," said Vern. "Perhaps it was a clash of temperament. But whatever it was, it didn't do me any good. It got so that I didn't care whether I played in St. Louis or not. I guess that, more than anything else, led to my jumping the club for the Mexican league last year."

E. B. Graduation To Be Postponed

Because the East Berlin high school was forced to close on several days during the past weeks when late winter snows closed rural roads where many students reside, the school must now remain open longer this spring than was originally planned in order to make up the required number of days for the term, and consequently no definite date can be fixed for the year's closing exercises until it is determined how the missing days can be filled in.

It is expected, however, that the annual commencement exercises will take place at the auditorium within a few days of Memorial Day. The class to be graduated is one of the largest in the history of the school.

HAIFA'S BIGGEST FIRES DESTROY MILLIONS IN OIL

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON

Jerusalem, March 31 (P)—Black smoke towered thousands of feet over Haifa today from oil fires set by explosions last night while the British were rescuing 1,570 Jewish refugees from a rotten, foundering schooner built 70 years ago.

Company technicians estimated the damage at around $4,000,000, but said the fires in the oil installations along the Haifa waterfronts might continue several days. Earlier unofficial estimates were that the damage might approximate $16,000,000.

Nearby buildings were damaged severely. The Shell Oil company alone said its loss was $1,000,000. The underground Irgun Zvai Leumi earlier had claimed responsibility for sabotaging the oil installations.

"Biggest Ever"

The fires, blazing along a quarter mile of the waterfront, were described by British authorities as "the biggest ever in Haifa." Eight storage tanks were demolished and six others were burning out. An official statement said the entire harbor area was "blackened by smoke from a blazing mixture of kerosene and fuel oil and at noon, smoke still was rising thousands of

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

For Mexico: Six young men left this place on Saturday morning, to connect themselves with Capt. Barnard's company of Mounted Riflemen, now on their way to the seat of war. Their names are William J. Miller, John Pottorff, John Ohler, Samuel Golden, Henry C. Tiltis and Jesse D. Walter.

Married: On the 25th inst., by the Rev. B. Keller, Mr. Lewis Beard, to Miss Elizabeth Fream—both of Millerstown, Hamilton township. On the 25th inst., by the Rev. John Ulrich, Mr. George Ehrhart, to Miss Susanna Thomas—all of this county.

On the 28th inst., by the Rev. J. C. Smith, Mr. T. B. Helms, to Miss Henrietta Brothers—all of Littlestown, Adams county.

Battle of Buena Vista: The news of this great battle and victory, coming well authenticated, has put an end to the torturing suspense in which the public mind was so long kept in regard to Gen. Taylor and his gallant men.

The particulars of the battle of Buena Vista will no doubt exhibit, when they are fully known, not only a conflict of terrible intensity, but one, also, in which masterly generalship went hand in hand with the most determined bravery.—That an army of five thousand men should fight one of nearly four times its force, in the open field, the former being composed of mainly volunteers, who had never faced an enemy before, is of itself an evidence of daring, not often witnessed; that it should fight and not be out-flanked by such superiority of numbers, nor be forced to retreat, is a more unusual thing still in the history of wars; but that it should fight and not only hold its own, but cut its adversary to pieces, and gain a decisive victory, is an event which the tacticians of European armies may contemplate with wonder, while we, here at home, take pride in the men and in the commander by whom the thing was done.—Baltimore American.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Easter Sunday.—In Gettysburg on Easter Sunday the services in most of the churches had special reference to the Resurrection. The altar and pulpit of the College church were tastefully decorated with potted flowers, blooming calla lilies, verbenas, &c., the work of a few ladies. Dr. Brown occupied the pulpit in the morning, preaching an able sermon. At night, the Sabbath school of the church had special exercises, in presence of a large audience. Prof. Ferrier opened with prayer, Prof. Jacobs, and Drs. Brown and Hay, delivering interesting addresses.—The exercises were interspersed with vocal music by the School, and several Easter anthems by the Choir.

Barnum's Grand Caravan: P. T. Barnum, the renowned showman, has organized a monster traveling Museum, Menagerie, Hippodrome and Caravan, which will leave New York on the 15th inst., for a summer tour. In consequence of its immense size, and the impracticability of moving it by wagons and horses, he has made arrangements for railroad transportation, and will only show in the larger towns and cities until November when it will be shipped to Europe. The places nearest to Gettysburg at which this grand combination will exhibit, are as follows: Frederick, May 8; Hagerstown, May 9; Chambersburg, May 10; Carlisle, May 11; Harrisburg, May 13; and York, May 14.

Married: Baker-Miller.—On the 28th inst., at the residence of Mr. Joseph Mackley, by the Rev. W. R. I. Deatrich, Mr. Jacob S. Baker, to Miss Clementine E. Miller, all of Mountjoy township. Ouden-Hess.—On the 26th inst., in this place, by Rev. P. Bergstresser, Mr. William A. Ouden to Miss Clara Ann Hess, both of this place. Westminster Sentinel please copy.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
HONOR

The sights and instances that come to us daily, and often in unexpected places, emphasize the widespread honor among human beings. In a recent copy of the "Newark Star-Ledger," I read a piece about the parking meters in Newark. Out of 6,650,000 nickels collected there were only 384 slugs! Quite some bit of praise for the honor of folks in a great city, such as Newark. And this over a five year period!

Ever since the traffic lights were first installed in the country, the honor among drivers in obeying them to the letter has increased so that the percentage of those who violate them is very small. In the final analysis it's to the advantage of the driver himself to obey such traffic signals. He gets away with nothing when he refuses. He might do away with his own life!

I used to take lunch in a downtown restaurant in New York City, where you went around and selected your food — price marked plainly on each item — and then, without any check given, you told the cashier just what your charge should be. I asked the proprietor if he lost much money on such a plan and he replied that it was almost nothing. People put on their honor take pride in asserting it.

The one who cheats in school to gain a temporary advantage in his studies, or at an examination period, gains nothing. He may even pass out of his school, but when he gets into the business of life, in competition with his peers, he can't cheat and get anywhere. There he will learn from practical experience that honor pays — and pays big!

It is honor that embellishes a good name — and you recall the proverb that "a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches." People who are honorable in all their dealings with their fellow man, go forward. It is not only the best policy but the only policy that leads to any success worth while. There is a sense of satisfaction, in always being honorable, that nothing can replace.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "American Bred."

SHABBY DRESSER
Careless of the ties he wears;
Think he grabs them in the dark,
Dressed as though he little cares.
What his neighbors may remark,
Trousers baggy at the knee;
Hat the ragman wouldn't own.
Comes the thought when him I see:
There's a man who lives alone.

Hair that droops upon his ears;
Often badly needs a shave,
All indifferent he appears;
Praise no longer seems to crave.
Suit that someone ought to press;
Coat that brush has seldom known.
Why so thoughtless of his dress?
Could be, he must live alone.

None to tell him what to wear;
None at him to shake a head,
How he looks, no one to care;
None to counsel blue or red.
Used to laugh and wonder why
Now so heedless could have grown.
Now I know when he goes by . . .
There's another left alone.

The building will cost from $1,500 to $2,000. About $600 have already been collected.

TRUMAN LOSES WAR POWERS AT MIDNIGHT

By STERLING F. GREEN

Washington, March 31 (P)—President Truman loses at midnight the biggest single grant of power handed over to the White House during the war—the unlimited authority to ration and parcel out scarce materials.

However, Congress was set to stamp its final approval during the day on two measures salvaging a vestige of the second war powers act. The bulk of that measure dies at midnight, along with the six and one-half year old draft law.

New Bills Passed
The new bills, already approved by Senate and House conference committees, were due for prompt presidential signature once they reach the White House. They provide:

An extension until October 31 of sugar rationing and price control with the agriculture department taking over both chores from OPA.

Emergency extension, until June 30 only, of allocation programs over tin, antimony, railroad freight cars, tractors built for export, manila and agave cordage and fiber, the drug streptomycin, and cinchona (quinine), bark; plus limited controls in foreign trade.

Upon signing them, the President will abandon his authority to place any other materials under priorities, rationing or allocation, even in the event of a new national crisis arising from strikes, disasters or a revived threat of war.

Other Controls Die
Control over rubber, uranium ore, housing materials, exports, and construction—all formerly dependent on the second war powers act—already have been preserved under separate postwar legislation.

Other programs, all administered by the Civil Production Administration, will die at midnight. They include:

Inventory controls, which prohibit the hoarding and withholding of such things as washing machines and other scarce consumer goods; the allocation of steel and resins; the export quotas imposed upon the manufacture of automobiles; textile regulations; and a few other minor orders which are all that remain of the 700 industrial controls invoked during the war.

Mt. Lebanon Team Wins Track Honors

Pittsburgh, March 31 (P)—Mt. Lebanon high school's track team scored 37½ points Saturday to win the team trophy in the annual tri-state track coaches association indoor championships.

Sewickley placed third with 30 points and Canonsburg was third with 23. Other scores: Penn. 20; Wilkinsburg, 15; Struthers, O., 14½; Connelville, 14; East Palestine, O., 13; Carrick, 10; Butler, 10; Ambridge, 8½; McKeesport, 7; Greensburg, 5; Donora, 4½; Derry, 4; Aliquippa, 4; Bridgeville, 3½; and Washington, 2.

Mentioned As Coach For Pittsburgh Team

Pittsburgh, March 31 (P)—Two western Pennsylvania basketball coaches were being mentioned today as possible successors to Paul Birch, whose release as mentor of the Pittsburgh Ironmen of the basketball association of America was announced yesterday.

The reported candidates for the post were Chick Davies of Duquesne university and Grover C. Washbaugh of Westminster college. Business Manager John T. McGreevy said no one had been offered the job yet.

The Ironmen finished the season in the western division cellar.

File Protests On Water Supply Plan

Oxford, Pa., March 31 (P)—Farmers, property owners and business men have joined to protest the plan of the Chester municipal authority to flood 500 acres of farm land adjoining the Octoraro creek to obtain a new water supply.

Dr. L. E. Green, who heads the Chester and Lancaster county group, said the $9,533,000 project will cost farmers of the area $5,000,000 annually "if the city of Chester succeeds in obtaining permission to construct a dam and pumping station without restrictions or regulations."

Retired Railroad Official Dies At 76

Chambersburg, Pa., March 31 (P)—Thomas B. Kennedy, 76, retired railroad official, died here today after a long illness.

Kennedy was formerly connected with the Cumberland Valley railroad, joining the Pennsylvania when that system took over the Cumberland Valley. He was made superintendent of the Pennsylvania's Cumberland division.

When he retired in 1938 he had advanced to the post of assistant to the general superintendent of the Philadelphia division.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LEAVES

Man's long familiarity with cultivated and native plants has imposed penalties as well as presented benefits. He has lost sight of primary facts and principles while he has been quite steadily improving methods and strains. This fact is impressive in our attitude toward plant insects and diseases. And the thought was emphasized by a statement we read recently from Dr. J. G. Horsfall, of Connecticut. This eminent plant pathologist wrote, "A plant is just as sick whether it's hit by an insect or a plant disease. We need to learn to take a plant's-eye view."

How does an insect enemy injure a plant? Through what course or change does a plant disease bring death or injury to a plant?

When the simple but true answers are obtained to these questions, the remarkable fact is soon brought out that the grower has but one major task in growing a particular plant, whether that task involve preparing soil, disinfecting seed, choosing and applying fertilizer, cultivating the plant or protecting it from insect foes or diseases. That one task is—Grow a good crop of leaves. Nature will take care of the rest.

Let us take the potato plant for a simple example. The tubers which the farmer digs in late summer are formed entirely from materials which have been manufactured in the plant's leaves. The leaf is, in fact, a small but complete chemical laboratory. From elements taken in from the air and those brought up from the soil through the plant's roots and stem there is manufactured the entire supply of nutrients needed to enlarge and nourish the leaves, stems, roots and tubers. All growth comes from those leaf-manufactured nutrients.

If half the leaves are injured by blight or gnawed by Colorado beetles or weakened by leafhoppers or aphids, the plant's supply of food on which to grow and from which the crop of tubers is developed will be at least curtailed by one-half. In fact, just in the same proportion as the potato plant's leaves are injured or destroyed the plant's growth is restricted and ultimately the crop reduced or its quality impaired.

Therefore, the potato grower faces one general task — to produce a liberal crop of normal, vigorous leaves. And the same is true of every other kind of plant man attempts to grow — annual and perennial flowers, vegetables, fruit trees, grape vines, house plants and forest trees.

There is no great and technical difference between the effects of a plant disease and the ravages left by insect attacks. In either case injury will be measured largely by the effects on the plant's foliage. And the same truth applies to moisture and plant food requirements. For after all, whether a plant thrives or fails from any cause or causes, its success or its weakness will be largely determined by its crop of leaves.

When this simple truth is better understood, gardeners, orchardists, farmers in general and even flower growers and house plant owners will better appreciate the importance of keeping plant foliage thrifty and vigorous. This means control of insect enemies before they inflict heavy damages; it calls for prevention as the foremost way to meet the disease problem. And too, it emphasizes the importance of growing plants in fertile, mellow soils where maximum foliage growth is stimulated.

It is not so much what causes a plant to weaken, but the more vital question is — How many leaves are damaged?

Man Must Still Rely On Birds

When it is suggested that gardeners, orchardists and farmers should pursue a consistent program of increasing and protecting birdlife, opposition immediately arises. "Birds destroyed our cherries last year," a grower charges. "Birds damaged our grain crops," a farmer declares. And of course, such indictments are true. Birds do feed on vegetable crops, fruits and grain. But there is another and a vital side to the story, a side every citizen should seriously consider.

Nature originally set up a balance of power between destructive insects and birds. Whenever any predaceous pest became too numerous, birds would go in shock troops to reduce the pest. In a land where man has not entered to disrupt the balance of Nature's processes, it is probable that no destructive outbreaks of insect ravages on plants could occur.

Certain it is that as man has destroyed birdlife on this continent the toll taken by insect enemies has increased.

"But why bother with birds?" someone asks. "We have insecticides now to take the place of birds in insect control."

DDT is demonstrating the folly of this particular claim. In tests to date, DDT has been found to kill off so many friendly orchard insects that the benefits of this fine insecticide against codling moths may be more than out-weighed in the harm it causes on other lines. And this brings man to the all-important question—Can Nature's method be set aside and man's methods substituted? Americans must soon answer that question as it applies to friendly birds. In the meantime it may prove wise to hang out the welcome mat to our feathered friends for another season.

One of the evils charged against birds usually results from having too many of a particular species. If birds are quite normally balanced among the various genera and species, there will be no widespread damages. Thus, all citizens, urban as well as rural, should endeavor to increase all the beneficial kinds of birds.

First among the needs of birds are houses. Readers are urged to write their Congressman for a free copy of Farmers' Bulletin 1456—Homes For Birds. This publication contains a wealth of practical information and is well illustrated to help builders of houses for the various kinds of desirable birds.

Next, the bird lover should have a copy (from the same sources) of Farmers' Bulletin 621—How to Attract Birds. This booklet includes a list of ornamental and food shrubs which may be grown to furnish birds with wild fruits. And on this phase of the subject it is interesting to add that the editor last spring observed birds feeding avidly on wild mulberries within a few yards of sweet cherries ready to harvest and they seemed to prefer the mulberries. Here may be a worthwhile idea.

Citizens interested in increasing birdlife in cemeteries, school grounds, around golf courses and other public areas should ask their Congressman for Farmers' Bulletin 1644—Local Bird Refuges.

Friendly martins will be returning within three weeks. They appreciate plenty of prospective homesites. Wrens come along a few days later. They, too, demand special homes.

Insecticides in certain categories will be scarce this summer. Birds may prove valuable allies in cases of serious outbreaks of ravaging insect foes.

USEFUL NOTES ON EARLY GARDENS

Leaf lettuce of Black-seeded Simpson or Grand Rapids varieties reaches edible size within 45 days after sowing seed.

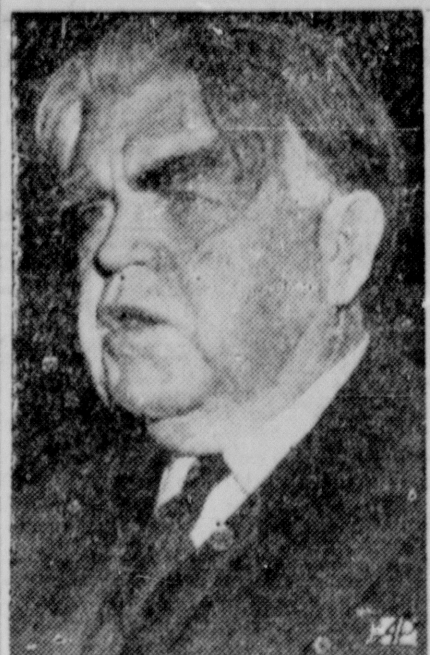

Garden peas are rich in food value and contain excellent supplies of vitamins A, B and C. And it is well to remember that to keep peas productive, do not allow pods to ripen on the vines. In other words, keep them harvested close.

Peas, beets, cabbage, Brussels sprouts, carrots, parsley, parsnips, kale, lettuce, broccoli, turnips, mustard and several other hardy vegetables are not injured by light frosts.

On the other hand, cucumbers, snap beans, lima beans, sweet corn, potatoes, sweet potatoes, cantaloupes, watermelons, eggplant, pumpkins and peppers are prominently among vegetables quite easily nipped by frost.

All home gardeners should try at least a few short rows of edible soybeans this year. The Bansei, Funk Delicious, Mendota and Giant Green are among the most popular varieties. Plant after the soil is warm.

If extra early bunch snap beans are wanted, plants started before frost dangers are past must be protected on threatening nights. Otherwise it is necessary to wait until early May to make the first planting. Around 48 days from planting until the first green beans are harvested is about the shortest growing variety.

Beets reach edible size in 50 to 60 days after planting, that is the small round varieties. The first sowing can be made safely as soon as the soil can be prepared this month.

Cabbage yellows organisms live for many years in infected soil. Gardeners whose cabbages were stricken with this disease last year should grow one or more of the resistant varieties for the next few years—Golden Acre, Wisconsin All-Seasons, Wisconsin Hollander, Marion Market and several others. There is no other known means of curbing this trouble.

Sow a few rows of extra early carrots this week or next. Make successive sowings and enjoy the garden's peer of vegetables in the form of "baby" carrots.

Cucumber plants do not, of course, permit transplanting by the ordinary method. But if started, three in a group, in quart fruit baskets in a coldframe or hotbed in April, the shift can be made later to their growing site without disturbing them.

It is not necessary nor even advisable for the home gardener to attempt to apply a particular strength of commercial fertilizer to each crop according to its demands. Rather, use one general mixture, something near a 6-8-6 to a 4-12-4 strength.

Some of the small round so-called breakfast radishes are ready to eat in a little over three weeks after planting seed. Radishes, too, are immune to light frosts. Therefore, gardeners should make plantings every week from late February until early autumn. The delicious White Icicle requires a longer time to reach edible size.

Among the earliest fine greens crops is mustard. Sow seed in rows as soon as soil can be worked and thin plants later to stand four to six inches apart. Leaves are ready to harvest in a few weeks. Make successive sowings.

From 110 to 120 days from sowing seed is the proper time to allow for salsify (oyster-plant) to reach edible size. Seed should be sown in the row before the end of March for the earliest crop. The long tapering

NEW VIOLENCE FLARES IN INDIA

Bombay, March 31 (P)—Fresh outbreaks of Hindu-Moslem violence today raised to 42 killed and 14 wounded the number of casualties recorded in this city in the last 36 hours. Similar disturbances in Calcutta and Cawnpore caused nine deaths and 50 wounded.

Most of the casualties in Bombay were recorded yesterday, 40 being killed and 137 wounded during widespread disorders which were quelled only after police fired repeatedly into rioting mobs. One of the two men killed today was burned to death when a crowd set his home afire.

British troops joined police in patrolling the streets today in an effort to keep order, and public gatherings of more than four persons were rigidly prohibited.

A maze of unconfirmed rumors spread throughout the city as to the cause of the disorders, which resulted in fierce gang fights, stabbings and arson, including the firing of a cotton mill.

Fighting was the heaviest in area where Hindu and Moslem district converged and in sections of mixed populations.

A government communique said that in Calcutta five persons were killed yesterday, some of them by police fire, and 42 wounded. Ten arson cases were reported during the day. More than 50 persons have been killed and over 400 wounded in Calcutta since the clashes began Wednesday. Transportation is at a virtual standstill in the city. Other fatal clashes occurred in Howrah and Cawnpore.

BLISSFUL MAKE-BELIEVE

Chicago, (P)—Westbrook Sargent, 26, and Rosemary Petersen, 24, long have been engaged to marry but all the while there has been the housing problem to solve.

Surely there was a short cut somewhere that would be better than just awaiting his turn in real estate offices, Sargent decided. An idea finally came—a game. Appropriately named "for rent."

Within a week he drew plans and prepared dummies for the game based upon the idea of renting an apartment. A toy manufacturer's concern says it appears to be a sure-fire seller.

Beef tallow was the standard lubricant for pistons and cylinders in early steam engines.

roots demand a deeply mellow loam. There is a hybrid cucumber offered by seed firms this spring that claimed to be remarkably free from wilt.

D REVOLUTION FULL SWING ROUGH WORLD

DEWITT MACKENZIE
Foreign Affairs Analyst of another world war is natural public reaction to international events, but we don't let that possibility—shock
it is—blind us to an actuality is of even more immediate importance, and it is this:

Moscow-directed world-revolution for the spread of Communism, which was born with the establishment of the revolutionary Soviet government in 1917, is at long last full swing on a truly global scale. It is mobilized to the utmost, with which Russia can muster her recovery from the ravages of war.

Return to this subject because countering people who find it difficult to believe that anything so could be a reality—especially in the United States. Well, it does like melodramatic fiction, but must recognize its truth.

Revolutionary Rash
naturally the United States, as the powerful nation of our time—time, for that matter—and a realistic one at that, is the objective of the Communist.

We were given plenty of warning in the sensational testimony of last week before the Congressional Committee on Un-American Activities, and in the report of the committee to Congress. This re-stated that the Communist in the United States is part of world-wide revolutionary movement, taking orders direct from Moscow, and that it seeks to overthrow the Washington government.

The world is covered with a rash of events which are developments of the world revolution, some representing bloody violence and others representing political maneuvers. Typical of the latter class are the food demonstrations in the British zone of occupation in Germany. Some 100,000 people in the great Ruhr mining area have been making public protest over the quantity of food they are receiving, and there was a climax Saturday when 4,000 miners refused to resume digging, which is the economic lifeblood of Europe because of the coal crisis.

Such operations are the indirect result of which is used as a softening process before the direct-action is applied. There are plenty of examples of direct-action—governments established by force and the liquidation of the opposition.

The United States is now in the opening stages. The government is trying to clean house of the Communists, calculated to prevent the development of the direct-action in America. It will, too, if the public recognizes present dangers and keeps on the alert.

SEEKING SLAYER OF YOUNG GIRL

Washington, Pa., March 31 (AP)—Police questioned a 19-year-old girl today in the slaying of a 14-year-old Canonsburg girl whose battered and scantily-clad body was found along a rural road Saturday.

The victim was Lois Hope, 16, daughter of an unemployed crane operator. Her body, unidentified for several hours until a sister saw it, was found in a clump of weeds near a barn in which she was last seen.

BONUS ADVANCED IN NEW JERSEY

Trenton, N. J., March 31 (AP)—A long-awaited state veterans bonus plan delayed because of disagreement over new taxes to meet costs well over $100,000,000, was finally approved by the New Jersey Legislature today in a unanimous commission report which omitted financing proposals.

Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll's immediate reaction was opposition to any legislation which did not include means of financing. The report conceded that "the state does not have the available cash to meet the large costs," but in recommending a short-term bond issue, left the tax problem to the Legislature.

Members of the bi-partisan 12-member bonus commission predicted the tax problem would become a party political issue, although the recommendation for a maximum of $150 payment for domestic duty and $250 for foreign service was made unanimously.

Democratic leaders refused to sign the report three weeks ago when it contained suggestions for a tax on cigarette sales, and additional levies on gasoline. Unanimity was restored by leaving all discussion of revenue to the Legislature.

Ambulance Driver Collapses And Dies

Pittsburgh, March 31 (AP)—Edward Smith, 55, of Brackenridge, died of a heart attack over the week-end while on an errand of mercy as an ambulance driver for the Allegheny-Ludlum Steel Corporation.

Smith had been called to one of the Brackenridge shops of the Steel company after Louis Dietz, 34, of Tarentum, R. D. 1, another employee, fell and injured his back. Smith collapsed as he set about placing Dietz in the ambulance.

GI CAB DRIVERS PLAN NEW MOVE

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—Ordered off the streets of Philadelphia by a state Supreme Court decision members of the GI Taxicab Association today prepared to proceed with a plan for obtaining individual cab-operating franchises.

The Supreme Court decision upheld an injunction of the Dauphin county court which previously backed up a Public Utility Commission edict directing the GI drivers to cease operating cabs on a tip basis.

Bernard L. Lemisch, attorney for the association, said petitions for individual franchises had been filed early in January with the PUC and that the first of those hearings was due to be held April 17.

Mixed Reactions

The Supreme Court order brought mixed reactions from the veterans. Some simply covered the GI Cab signs on their vehicles and drove themselves to the high court decision. Others declared their intention to remain on the streets.

Bob Wilson, who said he was a spokesman for 75 veterans now running taxicabs said "We are veterans and many of us have bullet wounds in our arms and legs and we don't think we have to get off the streets."

Under the Dauphin county court injunction, the association is prohibited from "offering or undertaking directly or indirectly service for compensation, whether in the nature of tips, gratuities or otherwise."

Pennsy To Drop Passenger Trains

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad announced that fifteen passenger trains will be dropped from its schedules April 27 because they are losing propositions.

The company said its policy, despite widespread opposition from many commuter points affected by the cut, is "to discontinue passenger trains which do not pay their own way."

"This program is necessitated by the fact that the railroad operated at a deficit in 1946—a deficit of $10,000,000—for the first time in the company's history," the announcement said yesterday.

A mass meeting of South Jersey area commuters will be held Wednesday night in Palmyra, N. J., at which a delegation will be chosen to attend a hearing of the board of Public Utility commissioners in Trenton, N. J., on April 9.

Small stations affected are those on the Trenton-Camden-Bordentown branch; Trenton-East Stroudsburg on the Bel-Del division; Camden-Millville-Atlantic City on the Seashore line, and Harrisburg-Chambersburg-Hagerstown, Md., on the Cumberland and Valley branch.

Five Cent Cone May Stage Comeback

Pittsburgh, March 31 (AP)—The nickel ice cream cone may stage a comeback.

Firemen extinguish the last of a blaze that left this bus just a shell and threatened the lives of some fifty passengers in Boston. The passengers escaped from the vehicle before it burst into flames from gas dripping on a heated exhaust pipe. (AP Wirephoto)

GOVERNOR DUFF GETS PROTESTS ON TOBACCO TAX

Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—Governor Duff agreed to meet with tobacco interests who are protesting a proposed levy today on the house-approved $133,000,000 luxury and corporation tax program.

"We haven't set the exact date of the meeting but it should be some day this week," said the governor's office in disclosing Duff would hear complaints by Lancaster county tobacco growers that the tax was "a serious threat to a great basic farm crop."

The disclosure came in advance of an anticipated decision by GOP legislative leaders to hold public hearings on the tobacco and soft drinks tax proposals, backbone of Duff's revenue-raising program.

Pressure Groups

The proposed 20 per cent tax on soft drinks has resulted in a protest by the Keystone Bottlers' Protective Association of Pennsylvania. In a statement issued by the Keystone group it was pointed out that the bill will probably force many bottling establishments to go out of business, including several that have been started by veterans through GI loans.

"Returned veterans who have entered the business since the war, mostly on borrowed money, will be the first victims of bankruptcy," the association said in a statement.

Senate Majority Leader O. J. Tallman (R-Lehigh) conceded "substantial pressure" has arisen from both the tobacco and soft drink industries for an airing by the Senate finance committee.

Vote Against Tobacco Tax

"There seems to be a lot of feeling in this respect among the Senators," Tallman told a reporter in declaring he would press for a hearing on the levies.

Although the Republican-dominated house swiftly passed the tax legislation last Wednesday, the four GOP members from Lancaster county voted against the tobacco tax.

These negative votes heartened the Lancaster county tobacco growers cooperative association which at a mass meeting last week adopted a resolution, declaring: "We tobacco farmers of Pennsylvania protest with all the vigor at our command against the proposed tax on cigars sold in Pennsylvania and call upon authorities to abandon the proposed tax which might reduce rather than increase the state's payments."

More than $29,000,000 a biennium is anticipated from the proposed tobacco impost which would:

Increase from two to three cents the tax on a pack of 20 cigarettes and impose a 20 per cent levy on smoking and chewing tobacco and snuff; three cents on each 20 "little" cigars and $10 a thousand on standard-sized cigars.

This impost is expected to bring the state $38,000,000 in the next two years on the basis of a tax of one cent on each 12 ounces or fraction of bottled soft drinks and one cent a fluid ounce on syrups, or $128 a gallon.

In the meantime, as the legislature prepared to reconvene for its 13th week—the house at 4:30 p.m. and the Senate at 4 p.m.—a floor battle loomed on a bill to increase the maximum work week of women from 44 to 48 hours. Both the AFL and CIO are against the bill.

New Oxford Girl Phones From Tokyo

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Frankentfield, New Oxford, R. D. 2, heard the voice of their daughter, Marian, for the first time in nearly a year when she telephoned to them from Tokyo on Thursday. Miss Frankentfield is a civil service employee and left the U. S. last April to work in Japan, where she arrived in May. Her phone call was received at about 6 o'clock on Thursday morning. Her parents and brother, Carl, 13, conversed with her. Miss Frankentfield told her parents that she has found Japan pleasant and may remain there for a time after the year of work for which she contracted. During the war, the Adams county girl served with Army Intelligence for three years. Prior to that she was a civil service worker.

Wearing Nylons In Easter Egg Hues

Atlantic City, N. J., March 31 (AP)—The ladies, this city's official fashion experts reported today, are wearing sheer, colored nylons—in red, green, purple, blue or black.

That was the major finding reported by the select body of judges which roamed the boardwalk yesterday, passing out gardenia corsages with the city's best wishes to the 50 "best dressed" women they encountered.

The colored stockings, the experts said, appeared in unusually large numbers, always matching milady's outfit.

And the outfit was usually of the Back-to-the-bustle variety which, the experts agreed, appears to be the season's major style note.

TRUST BAFFLES BEAUTY QUEEN

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—Blond Ethel May Moody, one-time beauty queen, still was a bit confused today as she tried to find a reason for a $40,000 trust will left by Harry K. Thaw, late millionaire playboy who claims she met only once.

Miss Moody—crowned Miss Philadelphia in 1929—had recovered somewhat from her initial "I don't believe it" statement and though still a bit nonplussed tried to recall her meeting with the unpredictable Thaw, which she said occurred at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York, in 1928.

"It was a dinner or birthday party and I don't remember if we were formally introduced. Harry K. Thaw was sitting at the table across from me. It seems to me it was one of those how-do-you-do meetings and that was all. I have never spoken to him since."

More Than Wife Gets

Thaw, who died at his Miami beach home February 22 at the age of 76, left Miss Moody the largest single monetary bequest in his will, even greater than that left to his ex-wife, Evelyn Nesbit, for whom he shot and killed architect Stanford White.

The 38-year-old model has real plans for use of the money whatever the reason for her getting it was.

"I'm going to begin to live now. I'll buy a lot of clothing for my

JERSEY FIRES UNDER CONTROL

Atlantic City, N. J., March 31 (AP)—Forest fires roared through 1,650 acres of New Jersey pineland over the week-end, threatening three Atlantic county municipalities before being brought under control by air- and ground crews guided by naval planes from the Pomona base.

Shifting winds complicated firefighting efforts as the crews fought to divert one blaze from some 75 homes which lay directly in its path, but State Fire Warden William J. Siedel said late yesterday that all the fires had been brought under control.

Thirty-five fires were reported, and Siedel described the week-end toll as "the worst of the year." He said the fires marked the start of the annual 12-week "dry season" in the pineland areas.

The worst blaze was in the McClellan-Creek area 12 miles west of Atlantic City where 1,300 acres were reported burned out. Flames swept 1,000 acres Saturday before being brought under control, but the fire was rekindled yesterday ravaging an additional 300 acres before being subdued.

Says Greek Aid Is Step Toward War

Pittsburgh, March 31 (AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) expressed belief in week-end addresses here that military aid to Greece would not provoke war with Russia "at this moment," but that such aid would be "a step in that direction."

Discussing the government's proposal for financial aid to Greece and Turkey, Taft said: "We can help the Greeks rehabilitate their farms and build up their industries, but once their economic position is restored, we've gone as far as we should."

WORLD WAR II CAUSED CRISIS IN HOSPITALS

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of five articles on Pennsylvania's mental hospital situation.)

By LEONARD UNGER
Harrisburg, March 31 (AP)—World War II created a Pennsylvania mental hospital crisis—one of the greatest humanitarian problems ever to confront the Keystone state—but it had been building up over the years.

In telling this, Dr. Hilding A. Bengt, director of the State Bureau of Mental Health, cited instances of where 200 violent patients were crowded into a ward meant for 50 and where two physicians cared for as many as 3,000 patients at a time.

He rectified these facts, shrugged his shoulders and explained simply: "Basically, it's a case of overcrowding in inadequate facilities and of a shortage of qualified personnel in a period of full employment."

Figures Support Contention

Supporting his contention are state Welfare Department figures showing there now are:

42,350 patients in Pennsylvania's 22 mental hospitals compared to beds enough for 32,238.

135 physicians where 283 are needed.

313 nurses where 713 are needed.

840 attendants where 4,000 are needed.

"To achieve a minimum efficient operation we must have at least 8,800 trained persons in our mental hospitals," Dr. Bengt said. "At our wartime worst we had only 4,900."

The overcrowding—it was so bad during the war years that officials were forced to restrict admissions only to the most violent cases—stems in part from a 1938 law under which the state took over 13 county mental institutions.

This practically doubled the state load over a five-year period of the acquisition.

Four Hospitals Closed

Four of the hospitals—in Mercer, Schuylkill, Lackawanna and Lancaster—were closed.

Warning To Parents: Penny Bubble Gum!

Newark, N. J., March 31 (AP)—The bubble-and-pop set had good news today from the New Jersey Wholesale Confectioners Association: Penny bubble gum is coming back.

The bubble is about to burst on the bubble gum market, Association President Louis Mendelson predicted. Thanks to increased sugar rationing.

aster counties—were closed and the patients transferred to other institutions. That further aggravated the problem.

The commonwealth's burden was further increased last year by a request by the Veterans Administration that the state admit 600 mentally ill ex-servicemen to the Coatesville hospital.

Meanwhile, as the overcrowding increased, the personnel shortage became worse. Qualified physicians and nurses went to war and defense industries attracted the comparatively low-paid attendants to more lucrative jobs.

Comparing statistics to show that the average mental hospital patient is confined for nine months compared to two weeks for general hospital patients, Dr. Bengt said: "We have bed shortages in our general hospitals so you can imagine—if you can—what things are like in our mental hospitals."

The Philadelphia State hospital at Byberry, largest mental institution in the commonwealth, is 75 per cent overcrowded, with more than 6,000 patients occupying facilities with a rated capacity of only 3,589.

Creates New Jobs for the Coming Crop of Youngsters

THINK back over the jobs you've held. When sales were bad, there were pay-cuts, layoffs, fear, worry.

When sales were good, there were raises, advancement, hope, cheer. The old man didn't "fear the axe." There was plenty of hiring of youngsters to train for the expanding business.

Advertising sells goods. That's its job. And more sales mean more work to do—right from the factory to the farms and mills and mines, to the thousand and one firms that directly or indirectly depend on that factory's success.

More sales mean better business—more and better jobs, more security, greater opportunity. And advertising is a spark plug that makes sales. So always remember—today, tomorrow—advertising is making your job more secure.

200th Anniversary services which will begin April 27. Since they ar-rived several weeks earlier than anticipated, it was decided to begin using the gowns with the Palm Sunday service.

Following the Preparatory service, the 200th Anniversary Catechetical class met with the elders for exami-nation. This class is so named be-cause it is the class confirmed in the 200th anniversary year.

The church was adorned with snap-dragons, carnations and calla lilies.

The schedule of coming services follows: Confirmation, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m., sermon, "Trust in God as Jesus Did"; Holy Week service, Thursday at 7:30 p. m., sermon, "Jesus and Humility"; Monthly meeting of the Consistory and the Women's Guild following the Thursday night service; Holy Communion, Good Friday at 7:30 p. m., sermon, "The Undeclared Christ," and Holy Communion, Holy Communion, Easter at 10:30 a. m.

Surgeons To Finish Throat For Infant

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP)—Sur-geons at Temple university hospital today planned an operation in an attempt to save the life of a four-day-old boy by linking his incom-pleted esophagus with his stomach.

The infant, yet unnamed son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hanley of Green-ville, S. C., was flown here yester-day in a C-47 from the Army air base at Greenville.

The plane, piloted by Capt. Thomas E. Stewart and Major Orlo L. Austin of the Ninth air force, landed at the Philadelphia naval base at 4:30 p. m. and the boy was rushed to the hospital by ambulance.

The boy, kept alive by intravenous feedings, was kept under observa-tion during the night. The hospital said his chances of recovery are "very grave." One physician said the boy's condition at birth, while unusual, turned up occasionally in newborn babies.

The Strange Returning

Chapter 19

Upon his return home, Jeff hanged Linda Whitey Evans' letter and dis-appeared around the side of the house. When next she saw him he had a kit of mining tools and a hand pick. He remounted Star and called out to her from the saddle.

"I'm going to do a little investi-gating, be back around six."

He didn't smile. His words and gestures seemed almost automatic and Linda wondered if he was even definitely aware of her sitting on the porch steps, and doubted it. His eyes had the obscure far-away expres-sion of one lost in deep thought. After reading the letter she understood why.

"For a young fellow he certainly stepped into a mess, didn't he?"

Linda jumped slightly. "Dad! I didn't hear you come out."

Hardy grinned down at her. His cheeks were a healthier color and he seemed to have regained his strength in the past few days. Since Jeff's coming a revived zest for liv-ing had filled him, it was as though through the eyes of an ambitious uninhibited young man he saw a new life extending before him. Both he and Linda stared after the dis-missing figure of the man on horse-back.

"He wants to be alone," Linda murmured almost to herself.

"Growing fond of him, Lin?"

She met his eyes then looked away as though distrusting herself.

"How can I help it? He's the sort of person you do grow fond of."

"Yes, Jeff is the real McCoy, Linda. Straight-forward, clean and decent-minded. He doesn't seem to have been touched by the seamy side of Army life."

Her eyes questioned him steadily and he made a wry face.

"Oh, there is a seamy side. I haven't forgotten the last war by a long shot. And it's especially difficult for youngsters who come from good homes. I don't mean the battles and the wounded and the terrible horror of war, but the other side. . . . The revealing raw talk between battles, the discovery that human nature isn't quite what you expected, the liquor and women and the fatalistic attitude that creeps over you."

"I think I understand, Dad—I was an Army nurse, remember?"

He snapped his thin fingers. "So what? You nurses don't know so much."

Laughter bubbled up in her throat. "I wish you'd tell that to Jeff. He said the other night that he thought nurses knew everything."

"He did, eh? How was that?"

Remembering the occasion of Jeff's remark, the kiss that had pre-ceded it, Linda blushed violently.

"Oh, it wasn't important," she said with deliberate casualness.

Hardy reached down and putting his hand under her chin tilted her face up to him. His keen eyes probed hers pitilessly yet affectionately, his voice was kind. . . .

"So that's the way it is?"

"I'm afraid it is."

"Does he know you love him, Linda?"

"Of course not."

"He will in time."

She shook her head firmly. "Not from me he won't. If he begins to feel that way too, then maybe things—"

She left the sentence un-finished. "He has enough on his mind already without the added worry of a one-sided love affair."

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD DRAFT LAW TO DIE AT MIDNIGHT

By ELTON C. FAY

Washington, March 31 (AP) — From this midnight on the nation's youths will make up their own minds on whether they want to be soldiers.

The people who have been doing it for them since 1940 are going out of business.

The Selective Service system, which during its time inspired "greetings" from the president to 10,022,367 men, ceases to exist except as a record-keeping agency at midnight tonight.

Actually, however, there haven't been any draft calls since last October, and President Truman himself recommended to Congress that the Selective Service Act be allowed to die on schedule.

The army was the chief beneficiary of the draft because the navy, until the latter stages of the war preferred to adhere to its precedent of volunteers only.

Recruiting Is Adequate

Thus the end of the greatest manpower mustering organization in the nation's history finds the army with a force of 1,161,000 men. But of this total, 117,000 are "non-effectives," men who are in the process of being demobilized or ill. Beginning July 1, the average strength for the ensuing year will be 1,070,000, compared with the 8,300,000 peak figure of the war.

Maj. Gen. Willard S. Paul, chief of army personnel, said today he is satisfied with the present rate of recruiting and particularly with the high percentage of three-year enlistments.

Legislation to keep on file the 44-000,000 records compiled by Selective Service was passed by Congress and went to the president's desk over the week-end for his signature.

Draft officials describe these documents as the only comprehensive record of the nation's manpower in existence today. However, the records will be static since there is no provision for adding to them the names of youths coming into military age from now on.

Chicago Y Team National Champs

Pittsburgh, March 31 (AP) — The basketball team from Division Street Y.M.C.A. in Chicago won its third national "Y" championship here Saturday night with a 59-57 victory over the Brooklyn Carlton team.

The Chicago five first won the title in 1941 and repeated in 1942. In the semi-finals, Chicago beat Portsmouth, Ohio, and Brooklyn defeated Muncie, Ind.

The highest temperature ever recorded for sea water was 96 degrees, in the Persian Gulf.

Haines

tered the cigar business in 1912, being associated with the late S. S. Sechrist, also of Red Lion. In 1924, the latter retired and Mr. Haines continued as sole owner and proprietor of the H. L. Haines and Co. operating factories in Spry, Jacobus and Loganville. He retired from the cigar business in 1936.

Active In World War I

During World War I, he was actively identified with every undertaking and drive for the Red Cross, Liberty Loans, War Chest and similar projects. For these services, he later received a certificate of appreciation from President Woodrow Wilson.

In 1921, he was elected chief burgess of Red Lion and served in that office until 1931, when he went to Congress. During his first two terms in office, 1921 to 1929, Red Lion's street building program was carried out. The street building program included paving of practically every street and many alleys of the borough and the erection of the North Charles street bridge. He served as general chairman for Red Lion's Golden Jubilee celebration in 1930, commemorating the town's fiftieth year of incorporation.

Active In Church Affairs

He was a member of the Red Lion Bethany Evangelical United Brethren church and Sunday school since 1899 and had held a number of offices.

He organized the Men's Bible class, formerly the Young Men's Bible class, of the Sunday school more than 35 years ago and had been active and honorary class teacher since its inception. The class is one of the largest of its kind in this part of the state. He was superintendant of the Sunday school for about 20 years, a present member of the official board and a church trustee.

He was one of the organizers of the Red Lion Lions club in 1924, its initial vice-president, its second president and a director for several years.

Other offices he held during his lifetime included: Past president of Red Lion branch of the American Red Cross, past ex-deputy governor of the Pennsylvania Lions organization, past director of the Keystone Automobile club, past director of the Boy Scouts of York county, past director of the York County Boroughs' association, member of the National League of Masonic clubs, and a past member of the legislative committee of the York County Cigar Manufacturers' association.

He was a member of the Red Lion Masonic order and the Red Lion Elks Lodge 1592.

From about 1894 to 1916, Mr. Haines was a well-known baseball player, playing on Red Lion and York teams, first as a shortstop and later as a catcher. He played with the York team of the old Tri-State league and at one time was offered a contract with the Baltimore Orioles by the late John J. McGraw. His son, Henry L. "Hinky" Haines, picked on an All-American football team while at Penn State was a professional baseball and football player for several years.

Mr. Haines' long career as a public official led to his receiving many testimonials and honors. For "valuable" selfless service rendered to Red Lion, he was the recipient of testimonials from the Red Lion borough council and the Lions club of that town. In 1942, he was presented a framed testimonial by the Italian-American society of York county. Last Christmas, Red Lion American Legion Post 543 presented him with a leather-bound portfolio bearing the full text of a tributary resolution adopted by that organization in his behalf. In part, this resolution said: "Publicly recognize and express its appreciation for a life so full of usefulness and noble achievement... a man of profound understanding, but withal modest and discreet in his dealings with his fellowmen."

night with the court illegally seeking witnesses against the defendant.

Other Sanhedrin irregularities he enumerated included these: the charge was shifted from sedition to blasphemy during the trial; the high priest without right demanded of Jesus a defense before a case had been made out; the conviction came on His own confession without corroboration by witnesses; regular voting procedure was ignored and the unanimous verdict of "guilty" actually entailed the defendant to an acquittal under the law.

Roman Justice Collapses

When the case was taken before Pilate for confirmation of the death penalty, the Roman governor proceeded lawfully up to the point where he announced "I find no fault in this man," the speaker stated. But when the Jews—with whom Pilate was already in a precarious situation by reason of previous occurrences—demanded death, even Roman justice broke down.

Judge Sheely pointed out a number of interesting connections between present day court procedures and definitions of crimes which he said are traceable to the law of the Jews.

The Methodist pastor, the Rev. Floyd A. Carroll, conducted the worship service. There was a duet, "Search Me, O God," by Mrs. Crawford Witherow and Prof. George R. Larkin and a solo, "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" by Mrs. Henry Scharf.

he was a member of the postoffice and post roads committee, a member of the commission for the 75th anniversary observance of the battle of Gettysburg and leader of the Pennsylvania delegation in the House of Representatives from 1931 through 1938. Among the legislation he introduced was a bill authorizing the carrying of air mail by the post office department. For his interest in the promotion of the air mail program, he was commissioned an honorary admiral of the American Airlines flag ship fleet.

Surviving are: his wife, Mrs. Cora Ness Haines; five children, Henry L. "Hinky" Haines, Penn Wynne, Pa.; Mrs. Stewart Stables, Red Lion; Mrs. James M. Adams, Seaford, Del.; George W. Haines, Mifflintown, Pa., and Mrs. H. Edwin Trout, at home; a foster son, Walter J. Rothensies, at home; eight grandchildren, one great grandchild, his stepmother, Mrs. B. A. Haines, Wilmington, Del.; a half brother, Walter Haines, Wilmington, Del., and a half sister, Mrs. Ruth Emigh, Ardmore, Pa.

Funeral services at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Bethany Evangelical United Brethren church, Red Lion, Rev. J. Stewart Glen, pastor, officiating. Interment in Red Lion cemetery. The body will lie in state at the church from Wednesday noon until the time of the funeral. Masonic rites will be conducted at the graveside.

2,000 GERMAN MINERS STRIKE

Essen, Germany, March 31 (AP) — About 2,000 German miners struck today at Dortmund to enforce demands for increased food for their families, but 4,000 others returned to four pits that had been closed.

Some 10,000 persons including railway and wagon factory workers marched through the streets of Krefeld, on the west bank of the Rhine, waving banners protesting food shortages. A similar demonstration was planned later today in the coal center of Duisburg. A protest was cancelled at Cologne.

Official figures compiled by the British-operated north German coal control office showed a significant decrease in Ruhr coal production during the restless period of demonstrations, although most miners so far have obeyed union instructions to remain at work.

The coal output which reached 238,000 tons March 21 dropped to 231,000 tons March 28, or about the average of late February.

The coal production decline came at a time when British and American authorities were striving to increase production by giving miners benefits denied other Germans such as higher food quotas, housing priorities and extra allotments of cigarettes and liquors.

Cites Benefits From Bubble Gum's Use

Philadelphia, March 31 (AP) — It's not for fun that the children at the school of the Metropolitan Philadelphia Society for Crippled Children blow bubble gum—it's one of the most important events in their lives.

That's what Maybelle S. Walker, director of the school, said today. She explained that for some of the children, whose ages range from five to 14, speaking is almost impossible because of a lack of muscular co-ordination.

Miss Walker said that speech is a matter of exhaling breath and that blowing a bubble with gum is one way to teach the first step. She said blowing out candles works the same way.

The school was established to aid children, normal mentally, but with physical disabilities which make it difficult and often impossible for them to attend regular schools.

conciliation for a 30-day period after an injunction is issued by any federal judge.

The labor committee will start consideration of the legislation tomorrow.

The National Federation of Telephone workers and 39 affiliated unions have voted the strike to back up demands for wage increases and other concessions from the Bell telephone system.

Teachers Accept Compromise Offer

Uniontown, Pa., March 31 (AP) — Striking school teachers in Luzerne township, Fayette county, returned to classes today after a week-end vote agreeing to a compromise offer of the school board.

The 55 teachers accepted a $200 cost-of-living bonus. The teachers also won the right to attend the board's next budget meeting. They originally demanded a $400 bonus and a $600 annual salary boost next year. Eight schools and about 1,400 pupils were affected by the strike.

Offers Bill To Bar Telephone Strike

Washington, March 31 (AP) — Legislation aimed at heading off the threatened nationwide telephone strike April 7 was introduced today by Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.), chairman of the House labor committee.

The bill would permit the attorney general to obtain an injunction to block a strike. It also provides for
